

GEN. HOOKER'S ADVANCE.

From the Philadelphia Inquirer.

A gentleman, who arrived in this city yesterday from the army of the Potomac states that on Tuesday night last pontoon bridges were laid across the Rappahannock at Port Royal, in Caroline county, and twenty-two miles below Fredericksburg, and that on Wednesday, at daylight, the Army of the Potomac commenced crossing. Cannonading was heard on Tuesday last but no particulars were known. Gen. Stoneman's command, which left Falmouth nearly three weeks since, have not been idle, frequent raids having been made in the vicinity of Warrenton, Bealeton, White Sulphur Springs and the different fords.

We are in possession of considerable of the details of General Hooker's movement, but prefer not to make them public until all possible risk of benefitting the enemy by their publication shall be over. It should be sufficient for present purposes to say that a most important advance has been made. Our troops after driving out all straggling squads of the enemy, now occupy a large and important district of country commanding all the principal lines of transit between Washington, Richmond and the lower part of the Valley of Virginia. They have also made substantial progress towards Richmond and have established a firm foothold in positions which we have hitherto spent much money and lost thousands of valuable lives in abortive efforts to attain.

Attention is called to the card of Professor Bukowitz, who comes here for the purpose of giving instructions in music and the Languages. Professor B. is a performer on the Piano of no ordinary merit, and all who have heard him, or received instructions from him speak in the warmest praise of his talents. Persons wishing to take lessons in Piano music or the languages will find Professor B. a most excellent teacher.
